1. Build each circuit below and measure the voltages across each element. Show that the voltages across an element in circuit A plus the voltages across the corresponding element in circuit B is equal to the voltage across the element in circuit C.

A)

B)

C)