(10 points) Answer the following questions regarding the program written for this class. Turn in this sheet and your introduction sheet after you have submitted your program successfully.

0. (2 points) Submit your completed program as demonstrated in class.

1. What are the variables in this program?

2. What is the type of the variables?

3. What kind of values can the variables hold?

4. What is the input statement in this program?

5. How many output statements are there in this program? Give the first one in the program.

6. What is the purpose of the '%d' in the printf statement?

7. What does an assignment statement do? Give the first one in the program.

8. What arithmetic operator is used in this program? What operation does it perform?